GREETINGS!

In the words of an old Chinese curse and later used by Robert Kennedy, "May you live in interesting times." While people continue to debate whether this phrase is a blessing or a curse, one thing is certain: as retailers, we are most definitely living in interesting times!

- For the first time ever, people purchased more goods online than they did at stores this year
- Tariffs are hurting some businesses, but helping others
- What were once "social" media outlets are now critical marketing channels
- Significantly fewer Millennials have purchased homes than the generations that preceded them

There is no doubt that some of these changes would have driven my dad crazy. He was a traditionalist (whose legacy continues to be clearly visible on the floors of our Suncook, NH factory). Yet over the years, there is no denying that both what we sell (throws, pillows, and fabrics), and how we sell it (in-person appointments vs. trade shows vs. website orders) has, and continues to, evolve.

Accordingly, you'll see a number of changes to our products in this catalog. New styles like Berkshire, Cezanne, Tilton and Winslow reflect our design sensibilities. New colors have been created for perennial favorites like Campbell. Bedford Collections is also excited about the addition of our domestic pillow designs that complement our throws.

The one thing that remains unchanged is our commitment to craftsmanship, quality, value, and to the people who matter most: our employees and retail partners.
